Stigma among Parents with Serious Mental Illness: Internalised Mental Illness Stigma in Mothers and Externalised Gender Stigma in Fathers.

Submitted by
Melanie Stone BPsysch (Hons)

Submitted for requirements of the degree of Doctor of Clinical and Health Psychology

School of Psychology
Faculty of Science and Information Technology

University of Newcastle
Australia

February 2014
Statement of Originality

The thesis contains no material which has been accepted for the award of any other degree or diploma in any university or other tertiary institution and, to the best of my knowledge and belief, contains no material previously published or written by another person, except where due reference has been made in the text. I give consent to the final version of my thesis being made available worldwide when deposited in the University’s Digital Repository, subject to the provisions of the Copyright Act 1968.

Unless an Embargo has been approved for a determined period.

Student Name: Melanie Stone

Signed…………………………………..                  Date: 24.02.14

Principal Supervisor: Dr Linda Campbell

Signed:                                    Date: 24.02.14
I hereby certify that the work embodied in this thesis has been done in collaboration with other researchers: Stefania Paolini\textsuperscript{a-c}, Mary-Claire Hanlon\textsuperscript{c-f}, Jessica Melville\textsuperscript{b,c}, Cherrie Galletly\textsuperscript{h,i}, and Linda Campbell\textsuperscript{*b,c,g}

\textsuperscript{a}School of Psychology, Faculty of Science and Information Technology, University of Newcastle, Callaghan, NSW, Australia
\textsuperscript{b}School of Psychology, Faculty of Science and Information Technology, University of Newcastle, Ourimbah, NSW, Australia
\textsuperscript{c}Centre for Translational Neuroscience and Mental Health, University of Newcastle, Newcastle, NSW, Australia
\textsuperscript{d}Department of Radiation Oncology, Calvary Mater Hospital, Waratah, NSW, Australia
\textsuperscript{e}Hunter Cancer Research Alliance, Newcastle, NSW, Australia
\textsuperscript{f}Schizophrenia Research Institute, Darlinghurst, NSW, Australia
\textsuperscript{g}Hunter Medical Research Institute, Newcastle, NSW, Australia
\textsuperscript{h}Discipline of Psychiatry, School of Medicine, University of Adelaide, Adelaide, VIC, Australia
\textsuperscript{i}Northern Adelaide Local Health Network, Adelaide, VIC, Australia

Each member of the research team listed above assisted with the research design, recruitment of participants from the Survey of High Impact Psychosis (SHIP) database and final editing of the manuscript.

Student Name: Melanie Stone

Signed…………………………………..                   Date : 24.02.14

Principal Supervisor: Dr Linda Campbell

Signed:                                      Date: 24.02.14
STIGMA AMONG PARENTS WITH SERIOUS MENTAL ILLNESS

Statement of Authorship

I hereby certify that the work embodied in this thesis contains a scholarly work of which I am a joint author. I have included as part of the thesis a written statement, endorsed by my supervisor, attesting to my contribution to the joint scholarly work below:

I, Melanie Stone contributed to each phase of the joint scholarly work including the research design, recruitment, data collection, data analysis and writing of the manuscript.

Student Name: Melanie Stone

Signed…………………………………..                   Date : 24.02.14

Principal Supervisor: Dr Linda Campbell

Signed:                   Date: 24.02.14
Acknowledgements

Completing this thesis would not have been possible without the support, encouragement and guidance of many amazing and inspiring people. Because of space, I will not attempt to acknowledge each person by name. I am however, truly grateful to every person who assisted me throughout this journey.

I wish to acknowledge and convey my gratitude to my remarkable supervisor, Dr Linda Campbell. Your professional insight and knowledge were vital in the development and execution of this thesis. Your encouragement and guidance throughout this process was greatly appreciated. Thank you Linda.

I wish to express my appreciation and gratitude to my outstanding co-supervisor, Dr Stefania Paolini. Your dedication, patience and guidance were paramount to the development and acquisition of this thesis. Without your expert insight, support and encouragement, this task would not have been possible. My sincere thanks Stefi.

I would like to also thank my wonderful fiancé, Kegan. Your love, understanding, encouragement and good sense of humour provided me with strength and determination to successfully complete this thesis. Thank you so much Kegan.

And last, but not least, I wish to express my sincere thanks to my amazing family and friends. Your generous emotional and practical support, encouragement and validation was inspiring and of immense assistance to me. Family and friends, I am forever grateful.
Table of Contents

List of Tables ........................................................................................................................................ iv

Abstract .................................................................................................................................................. 1

An Introduction to Stigma among Parents with Serious Mental Illness .............................................. 4

Stigma among Individuals with Serious Mental Illness ................................................................. 7

Serious Mental Illness in Australia ..................................................................................................... 7

Stigma and its Functions ..................................................................................................................... 9

Public Stigma of Serious Mental Illness ............................................................................................ 10

  Behavioural responses to stigma ..................................................................................................... 12

Self-Stigma of Serious Mental Illness ................................................................................................. 13

Public and Self-Stigma Experiences for Individuals with Serious Mental Illness .................... 18

Stigma Experiences for Men and Women with Serious Mental Illness ........................................ 20

Parent and Gender Stigma for Mothers and Fathers with Serious Mental Illness ...................... 23

The Importance of Parenting for Individuals with Serious Mental Illness .................................... 23

Gender and Parent Stigma for Parents with Serious Mental Illness .............................................. 25

Gender and Parent Stigma in the Workplace .................................................................................... 27

The Experience of Stigma for Mothers and Fathers with Serious Mental Illness ...................... 30

Stigma for Parents with Serious Mental Illness ............................................................................... 30

Responses to Stigma by Parents with Serious Mental Illness ......................................................... 32

  Avoidance of public stigma ........................................................................................................... 32

  Self-stigma ..................................................................................................................................... 33

Stigma for Mothers with Serious Mental Illness ............................................................................ 34

Stigma for Fathers with Serious Mental Illness ............................................................................. 36

The Present Study ...................................................................................................................... 40

Abstract .............................................................................................................................................. 42
Table of Contents

Introduction ...........................................................................................................43

Methods ...............................................................................................................47
  Participants .......................................................................................................47
  Measures ..........................................................................................................49
  Demographics and child care ...........................................................................50
  Parenting ...........................................................................................................50
  Stigma ...............................................................................................................50

Data Analysis ....................................................................................................51
  Preliminary Analysis .........................................................................................51
  Extended Analysis .............................................................................................54

Results .................................................................................................................56
  Parents’ experience of stigma ..............................................................................56
  Differences in stigma experiences between mothers and fathers ......................58
  Differences in parenting experiences between mothers and fathers ..................60
  Clinical/demographic and parenting correlates of stigma related to mental illness and gender on parenting .................................................................63
  Stigma-related issues shared by mothers and fathers .........................................63
  Stigma-related issues different for mothers and fathers ......................................68

Experiences of stigmatising behaviours and sources of mental illness discrimination72

Discussion ............................................................................................................74
  Implications .......................................................................................................76
  Limitations .........................................................................................................78

Conclusion ............................................................................................................80
  Acknowledgements ............................................................................................80

General Discussion .............................................................................................82
Issues Shared by Mothers and Fathers with Serious Mental Illness..............82
Issues for Mothers with Serious Mental Illness.............................................86
Issues for Fathers with Serious Mental Illness.............................................89
Study Limitations.........................................................................................93
Further Considerations for Future Research...............................................96
Conclusion.....................................................................................................99

References..................................................................................................101

Appendices.................................................................................................119
Appendix A: Supplementary tables to methods and results sections ..........120
  Table 1S Sample representation of parents..................................................120
  Table 2S Clinical and demographic characteristics.....................................121
  Table 3S Number of children per parent......................................................122
  Table 4S Living situation of parents with dependent, non-dependent and biological children.................................................................123
  Table 5S Means and standard deviations for stigma-related variables........124
  Table 6S Means and standard deviations for parenting-related variables....126
Appendix B: Telephone Survey.................................................................128
  Part A: Demographics and Child Care.........................................................128
  Part B: Parenting.........................................................................................130
  Part C: Stigma.............................................................................................130
Appendix C: Self-stigma of Mental Illness Scale ..............................................133
Appendix D: Scope and author guide for journal submission.......................135
Appendix E: Evidence of manuscript submission to peer-reviewed journal.................................................................139
Appendix F: Information Statement.............................................................140
List of Tables

Table 1 Parent demographic characteristics..............................................49
Table 2 Parents’ agreement with stigma-related variables..............................57
Table 3 Multiple hierarchical regression analysis: Differences in stigma experiences for mothers and fathers.................................................................59
Table 4 Multiple hierarchical regression analysis: Differences in parenting experiences between mothers and fathers.................................................61
Table 5 Multiple hierarchical regression analysis: Stigma-related parenting issues shared by mothers and fathers associated with mental illness and gender stigma on parenting........................................................................................................64
Table 6 Multiple hierarchical regression analysis: Stigma-related parenting issues different for mothers and fathers associated with mental illness and gender stigma on parenting.................................................................69
Table 7 Chi-squared analyses: Perceived sources of mental illness discrimination for parents........................................................................................................73